DISPATCH FROM SHENG

Said That the Foreigners at the Chinese Capital Were Safe July 9th.

Washington, July 17.—The Chinese minister received a dispatch authenticated Sheng, imperial inspector of posts and telegraphs at Shanghai, declaring the foreigners in Peking were safe July 9 and receiving the protection of the government. This is two days after the reported massacre.

Birds That Are Coming.

When the writer came to Kansas fourteen years ago, there was not a song bird here, unless the meadow lark with his three unvarying notes might be called one. Outside the game birds, like the plover, the quail and the prairie chicken the little brown buffalo birds and the meadow larks there were no birds. No feathered songsters wakened us in the summer mornings. The few small groves were silent and songless.

Little by little as the country settled, and the trees became more numerous, they have ventured westward. What a joy it was the first morning we heard a mockingbird. Now they are plentiful and every orchard and grove has their nests and their brilliant vocalization may be heard almost anywhere. Last year for the first time the Orioles with their plumage and sweet voices took up their permanent residence here and this year they are thick. The bluejay, that lusty vagabond of the woods, came soon after we did, and fought and quarreled and gossiped the summer through. Last year too, the robin red breast, the sweet familiar figure of eastern homesteads, ventured west and his brilliant vest is common this year.

As the groves and orchards increase in number and size the feathered songsters will increase. Home is not home without their company, and while they like fruit, they like the enemies of fruit and the small boy with his air gun, should be forbidden to kill a single bird. No orchard, no home is complete without them. They mark the civilizing of this wild, new land. The taming of nature to the needs of man. They mark the permanence of home here, and all those things that have drawn our hearts to the old country "back east." Let them live and multiply. There is not one of them but pays his way in the destruction of insect enemies. There is not a single one but earns every cherry he eats. They never come till the insect enemies on our fruit trees are numerous enough to afford them a livelihood and the fruit they eat is a small item compared to the good they do.—Kinsley Mercury.

R. O. Childs, of Peoria, Ill., makes a suggestion of great value to everyone. "Begg's German Salve is the best general household remedy made." It cures cuts, burns, scalds, old sores, all skin diseases, and is the only Pile cure that never fails to cure permanently. W. F. Pine.

Died at her home, Spearville, Kans., July 8, Mrs. J. C. Jones. Funeral services were conducted in Spearville by the Rev. Patterson. The remains were brought to Kinsley for burial and services were conducted at the grave by Rev. Strong. Elizabeth Middleton was born in England, June 10th, 1844, and came to this country when eight years of age, with her parents, locating in Geneva, Illinois, where she grew to womanhood and was married to Mr. J. C. Jones. In March, 1877, they came to Kansas, locating near Spearville, where they have resided for nearly a quarter of a century. The deceased was brought up in the Episcopal church and was a constant member of the same to the time of her death. She was a self-sacrificing woman who thought first of her neighbor and last of her self, beloved by all who knew her she died as she had lived, a Christian. She leaves a husband and two children, a son, C. A. Jones, whose home is in Bucklin, Kas., and a daughter, Mrs. Joseph Parker, of Kinsley.

There is entirely too much horse stealing and other "monkey business" going on around here at present. The thing to do is to take in one of these thrifty gentlemen and make an everlasting shining example of him.—Liberal News.

Colorado for McKinley.

Some of our democratic friends are inclined to give any one the horse laugh who predicts that Colorado will go republican this fall. We believe it will, and submit a few figures to substantiate our prediction.

In 1899 the total democratic vote of the state for treasurer was 40,146 the total republican vote for the same office was 65,457. There was a floating vote of 47,373. This floating vote represents every possible faction and combination that the fertile brain of the politician could concoct. It is but fair to suppose that at least one-fourth of this floating vote at a presidential election will go to the republican electors. Conceding that we give the democrats the remaining 3/4 the results then obtained would stand, 1/4 of 47,373 is 11,843 that added to the straight republican vote will give a total vote of 77,300. Adding the 1/4 to the straight democratic vote will give a total of 75,676 or a majority for the McKinley electors of 1,624 votes.

We concede that if we carry the state it will be on a very narrow margin, but for that fact the contest will be more interesting. It is fair to suppose that the republican party will receive greater support from the silver republicans than the democrat party, inasmuch as the silver element were republicans up to 1896, and still adhere to the republican doctrine with the one exception of the silver question.—Rocky Ford Republican.

D. M. Booth, Elgin, Ill., who has just escaped a very dangerous operation writes us, "Begg's German Salve cured me of piles after everything else had failed. I was preparing for an operation, as a last resort. Would not be without it if it costs $10 a box. W. F. Pine.

Ed. H. Murray, a citizen of Reno county, died last Friday, from injuries received in one of his threshing machines. The Hutchinson News says:

When the accident occurred Mr. Murray had walked across the top of the threshing machine. The cap over the cylinder had been removed by some one, a fact of which Mr. Murray was ignorant. The top of the machine was covered with straw and believing that the cylinder was directly into the cylinder while the machine was in motion. Instantly his leg was nearly torn from his body. With almost superhuman strength he struggled from the machine and had pulled himself free from the cylinder before any help reached him, a circumstance which seemed a miracle to those who witnessed it.

For twenty years Begg's German Salve has been curing obstinate cases of blind, itching and bleeding piles. It has given quick relief and a permanent cure in hundreds of cases where doctors have failed. Don't delay. Try it now and stop that suffering. W. F. Pine.

A Dutch clergyman was in the habit of giving out two lines of a hymn at a time for the choir to sing. One dark, rainy day he could not see the words and said, "Mine eyes is dim, I cannot see; I left mine specks at home." Supposing this to be the hymn, the choir struck up the tune of common metre. The old fellow bawled out: "Mein Gott, mein Gott, dat ish no hymn; I only said mine eyes vash dim." The choir sang these two lines, the old fellow saying, "I dink the debil's in you all. Dat vash no hymn to sing at all."

"We have sold many different cough remedies, but none has given better satisfaction than Chamberlain's," says Mr. Charles Holzhauser, druggist, Newark, N. J. "It is perfectly safe and can be relied upon in all cases of coughs, colds or hoarseness. Sold by W. S. Amos.

—A curious circumstance took place last week. No. 8 was reported out from Offerle and for half an hour the people at the depot watched in vain for a sight of her smoke. After a time she arrived, 45 minutes out of Offerle. On inquiry we learned that when just this side of Offerle it was discovered that sparks from the engine had fired a field of wheat. The train was stopped, the crew and passengers got off and put the fire out. The loss was only two shocks of wheat. A strong wind was blowing from the south and but for their prompt action the loss might have been very great.—Kinsley Graphic, 13.

—Two years ago an order was issued by the Santa Fe management appointing a landscape gardener and providing for the beautification of station and shop grounds along the line of road. The move met with favor from the start. The work went great way towards breaking the monotony to passengers while passing over the road. Ordinarily the surroundings of railroad stations are not a pleasant sight. The little gardens and parks that were scattered along the road might be likened to oases in the desert and were appreciated by every one.

After the election of Third Vice President Barr the position of landscape gardener was abolished, and since then nothing has been done to keep up an interest in the good work. The gardens which were once beauty spots in the yards at Topeka, are unkempt and the flowers have nearly all died out. In spots a few are left which continue to grow in spite of everything to the contrary, but they are so scattered that it serves to make the other part of the grounds look more barren.

The station grounds along the road are being cared for simply at the pleasure of the station employees. In many places the improvements made under the direction of the landscape gardener are no longer visible.

While the beautification of railroad grounds is not a matter of necessity, the Santa Fe would probably lose nothing in continuing to take an interest in the artistic. The expense would be made up in the appreciation of the traveling public.—Topeka Journal.

The Saving of Money

by the use of Royal Baking Powder is considerable. Royal is economical, because it possesses more leavening power and goes further.

Royal saves also because it always makes fine, light, sweet food; never wastes good flour; butter and eggs

More important still is the saving in health. Royal Baking Powder adds anti-dyspeptic qualities to the food.

There is no baking powder so economical in practical use, no matter how little others may cost, as the Royal

Imitation baking powders almost invariably contain alum. Alum makes the food unwholesome.

State Soldiers' Home.

Editor GLOBE-REPUBLICAN.

It is quite safe to assume that your readers are all interested, more or less, in each and all of our State institutions, therefore I take the liberty of noting for your paper, a few of the salient features of this, one of our worthiest.

On a recent visit myself and comrade arrived at high twelve, and Comrade Green, Sergeant of Barrack No. 1, the quarters of elderly comrades who have no family, but now occupied also by a few families awaiting vacated cottages.

Here another welcome awaited us from the Comrade in charge, who reinforced his greeting with a prompt invitation to dinner; which promptness on his part was met if not surpassed by our prompt acceptance.

Promptness is a very worthy attribute to a soldier.

One general air pervades and invades every street, drive, walk, court, porch, room, closet, nook and corner of this entire institution—order—heaven's first law. Next, her helping hand—maid, neatness, with her twin-sister, cleanliness, and these jointly rule the Home as the sun, moon and stars rule the universe. In silent wonder at the systematic effects we lose sight of the potent cause.

The dining room here is under charge of Comrade Bernean, with his wife and daughter as aides-de-camp. Mrs. Bernean and daughter have also charge of the culinary department. Everything in the room and on or about the table was just as sweet and clean as correct management and persistent industry could make it. And the rations as placed before us and the comrades at the table showed most clearly that those who prepared them recognized the fact they were to be eaten by men. I am unable to specify the dishes set before us but I will venture to say that, taken as a whole, the quality and variety of food and the cookery are not excelled by the furnishings of any working man's table in Kansas—or any other state. We should each and all be proud to live in a State that makes such provision for those whose bravery held her to her rightful place in our constitutional galaxy at the time when the federal stars fell down, and chaos threatened to overwhelm the only government on earth founded upon the "rights of men."

VICTOR.

"They had an eating contest the other night at Pin Hook school house."

"Who won?"

"Ben Splutters—he ate nine head of cabbage."

"Didn't it make him sick?"

"No. He just took a spoonful of Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin. That prevents Stomach Trouble of any kind, they say."

On Kansas farms there is a demand for a threshing machine which can be operated by fewer men and can be pulled around easier. Such a machine, costing $650, is said to be made in the east and is in use extensively in Illinois.

Three buffaloes were unloaded at the local stock yards Thursday evening. They were being shipped with a carload of cattle from Texas to Lakin, Kan., where a buffalo farm is to be established. The former "monarchs of the plains" were not cramped for room, reserving about one-half the space in the car for themselves. They seem to have the cattle "buffaloed."—La Junta Tribune.

Question Answered.

Yes, August Flower still has the largest sale of any medicine in the civilized world. Your mothers and grandmothers never thought of using anything else for indigestion or biliousness. Doctors were scarce, and they seldom heard of Appendicitis, Nervous Prostration or Heart Failure, etc. They used August Flower to clean out the system and stop fermentation of undigested food, regulate the action of the liver, stimulate the nervous and organic action of the system, and that is all they took when feeling dull and bad with headaches and other aches. You only need a few doses of Green's August Flower, in liquid form, to make you satisfied there is nothing serious the matter with you. For sale by Palace Drug Co.
